

Society

Picked Up Here and There.

Mr. and Mrs. William Tudor sent out cards to announce the marriage, in Dublin, N. H., on Monday, of their daughter.

Married in the Woods at Sunset.

Comtesse de Pierrefeu, formerly Miss Eliza Tudor, widow of Comte de Pierrefeu, and Mr. Joseph Daniels Leland of Boston. The wedding quickly followed the announcement of their engagement last month.

The ceremony was performed at sunset in the Cathedral woods by the Rev. Malcolm Peabody, an intimate friend. Present at the wedding were Mrs. Tudor, Mrs. Joseph D. Leland, mother of the bridegroom; the children of the Comtesse, Yana Tudor de Pierrefeu, and his sisters, Dolores, Leonora and Katherine de Pierrefeu, and Miss Elizabeth Thacher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Thacher. Mrs. James Lovell Little played violin selections written especially for the occasion.

The Cathedral woods are beautiful and dark, a primal forest with moss under foot. The bride passed through a lane lighted by 200 or more candles, in standard, up to a little pool in the center of the forest, and there the ceremony took place. The bride and all of the children were dressed in green and the children wore wreaths of green and white. The bride's train was of green and white, which helped to lend picturesqueness to the scene.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland will live in Concord and they will go there about November 1. Miss Tudor and Comte de Pierrefeu were married in Boston in 1904. He was killed in action soon after the war started in Europe, where he had gone to serve his country. The comtesse devoted herself to relief work among the soldiers, and had charge of a hospital at Dinard. After her husband's death she returned to America, and since has done much good work in raising funds for the relief of soldiers in France.

I went down to Hampton Court the other day, writes the author of Lady Mary's London in the Pittsburgh Gazette, which is the most lovely of royal residences.

A Royal Court and Its Environs.

Exactly why in these days of swift motors and smooth roads King George and Queen Mary do not revive some of the ancient glories of this superb palace is beyond comprehension. At present it is a public holiday show place, and its splendid apartments and separate residences are called humbler "The Royal Almshouse," because they are given up entirely to aristocratic dependents on royal bounty, who live in luxury, rent free, in the midst of surroundings that are historic and splendid.

The palace of Hampton Court is even more beautiful than the palace of Versailles. It is smaller and less pretentious, but it has an austere beauty and a natural grace that set it far above the rather artificial fripperies and frivolous decorative qualities of the French home of kings.

Opposite Hampton Court palace, along the river bank extends a long line of houseboats, charmingly decorated with pink and white and red flowers and gaily painted in delicate colors that harmonize with the beauty of waving trees and rippling waters.

There is a pretty houseboat that looks as if it should be the summer home of youth and beauty, love and laughter. It is called "Sweetheart." The name is emblazoned in large gold letters upon the white paint in the shade of a green awning fringed with pink geraniums. A canary in a gold cage was singing sweetly; a Pekinese puppy was sunning itself upon a pale blue satin cushion and a Persian kitten was playing with a ball of string. The husband element was curiously disenchanted. A very fat and rubicund gentleman with no hair on his head and a great deal on his face was snoring loudly in a long deck chair, while in another chair heaped with cushions in pink and blue gray reposed a red-faced, golden-haired lady, who also evidently was sleeping off the effects of a heavy midday meal. Probably they had been and still were "sweethearts," but somehow I could only think of brewerries when I looked at them.

A unique birthday party at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., last week, was given by Mr. George W. Stevens of Richmond for Lady Williams Taylor of Montreal, Que.

Mr. Stevens took 130 friends to the banks of a stream about two miles distant from the Greenbrier Hotel. Fires were lighted in various parts of the grounds, at which different guests presided. Mrs. Garrett B. Wall had charge of the oven where the cheese was toasted. Mr. and Mrs. John E. C. Kohlsaat, Mrs. William White and Mr. Muller Ury had charge of the roasted corn, and Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Lewis presided over the Cornish pastry. There were six negroes who kept the party merry with their songs. The day was concluded by a song, "A Perfect Day."

We have turned in clothes, as in art, to the old Chinese colorings, and the French designers have led us to use a bit of Chinese embroidery in their Autumn Toilets. A bit of brocade at the waist line, a bow of it on the hat, a hem of it on the skirt, is strongly commended by the highest authorities. The odd, apparently vague in outline, Chinese designs, are copied in silk and in beaded embroidery on ceremonious frocks, and even pieces of jet are used on tulle hats, cut to resemble gentle dragons.

There is a new country hat worn with muslin frock which is definitely Chinese in its color and trimming. It has a wide, floppy brim and a round crown, covered with green embroidery and touched with balls of jade. By the way, there is another hat worn with country muslin frocks made of white felt and embroidered with flowers cut out of black lace. Speaking of hats, it is well to be warned that the majority of fashionable ones flare so high at the back that they show most of the hair. This is not true of the sports hats and all that large variety of headgear that is intended for the sun and the country, but of the ceremonious hats that are intended for usage with one's best frock.

Sometimes they turn up abruptly at the back, after the manner of the canestoe hat that Mrs. Castle made famous over years ago, and others slant out and from the crown, as far as it is possible for the brim to go without being arrested.

Some useful suggestions are given in the Knoxville (Tenn.) Journal and Tribune for those who will entertain autumn brides.

Hints for Hostesses. After a delightful hour spent in conversation and hemming tea towels for the bride-elect the guests were invited to the dining room, where a most charming table met the eye. A miniature kitchen and dining room was represented.

The range, with pots and pans, basket of groceries, the washtub, board and tiny wringer, clothes basket, ironing board, with baby iron, were not forgotten. Even the grandfather's clock and telephone all evidenced thought of familiarity with the engine room of the home. After many excursions of delight as each new feature met the eye, a fly-decked express wagon was discovered under the table. When drawn out there was a whole hostess of kitchen utensils, with cupid at the bride-to-be.

A description of another pre-nuptial entertainment in the same paper runs: The guests numbered about eighteen special friends of the hostess, who were bidden to bring their sewing and spend the afternoon. Dustcloths were lemmings for the bride-to-be, who will soon go to housekeeping in her own home in the west. A prize of a word of praise was awarded the one who was first to finish the hemming and marking her dustcloth. Later these were placed in an attractive bag and presented to the bride-elect.

After the sewing hour guests were bidden to the dining room, where delicious refreshments were served. Roses were here both in the table and room decorations.

Miss Evelyn Van Winkle of San Francisco took this novel method of announcing her engagement to Dr. Joseph A. Burkhardt at their home on Connecticut avenue.

Novel Engagement Announcement. that city, and the Chronicle thus describes it: About eighty-five young matrons and maids were invited to the affair, Miss novel entertainments have long been the admiration of her fellow clubwomen, says the Chicago Herald, announces that preparations are in progress for a zodiac party to be given next month for the benefit of New Hampshire colony and Illinois village of the Illinois Colony Club.

It is an selecting women according to the month of their birthday anniversaries, and am consulting the almanac for the signs of the zodiac. It will be one of the most interesting and instructive affairs of the club year, if effort and personal attention to detail avail anything," said Mrs. Greene. "Our object in raising money is to help old ladies who are in need, give them little outings and occasional pleasures. We have no sinking fund and no solicitors, so every dollar paid into the treasury does its full quota of work and gives 100 per cent to the cause we espouse."

Admiral and Mrs. A. V. Zane have taken the Pierce house on Oxford street, which they have leased for the winter.

Maj. and Mrs. M. L. Brett left yesterday for the Virginia mountains, where they will spend three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac E. Shoemaker of Grafton street, who spent most of the summer at Atlantic City, N. J., have returned to their home.

Mrs. F. Gonzales of Chicago, Ill., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Harry Chesley.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Doyle are back from a motor trip to Eaglesmere, Pa.

Mr. John Bartlett of Columbus, Ohio, was the week-end guest of his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Beale of Delaware street, en route to his home from Atlantic City, N. J., where he has been for the past month.

Mrs. R. S. Steward was hostess the past week at her home at an informal bridge party.

Mrs. John L. Weaver and sons motored back to their home the past week from Eaglesmere, Pa., where they have been spending several weeks.

Miss Bertha L. Pinter and Mr. George J. Pinter are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Burkhardt at their home on Connecticut avenue.

Mrs. Irene Polk has returned to her home after a visit with her sister, Mrs. George Grinwood.

Miss Katherine Burke, who has been the house guest of Miss Gladys Mid-

Van Winkle had guarded her secret so well that not even her closest friends realized that the engagement was to be announced.

Miss Van Winkle's two little nieces, Misses Rachel Margaret and Mary Evelyn Van Winkle, stood at the side of the bride-to-be. They carried dainty baskets containing the betrothal cards, and as the guests were greeted by the receiving party they were presented with one of the dainty cards bearing the announcement.

Dr. Smith is the son of Rev. Joseph Smith of Philadelphia and is a graduate of the Hahnemann Medical School of San Francisco.

TO BE MARRIED THIS FALL.

novel entertainments have long been the admiration of her fellow clubwomen, says the Chicago Herald, announces that preparations are in progress for a zodiac party to be given next month for the benefit of New Hampshire colony and Illinois village of the Illinois Colony Club.

A Zodiac Party.

It is an selecting women according to the month of their birthday anniversaries, and am consulting the almanac for the signs of the zodiac. It will be one of the most interesting and instructive affairs of the club year, if effort and personal attention to detail avail anything," said Mrs. Greene. "Our object in raising money is to help old ladies who are in need, give them little outings and occasional pleasures. We have no sinking fund and no solicitors, so every dollar paid into the treasury does its full quota of work and gives 100 per cent to the cause we espouse."

Chevy Chase.

Admiral and Mrs. A. V. Zane have taken the Pierce house on Oxford street, which they have leased for the winter.

Maj. and Mrs. M. L. Brett left yesterday for the Virginia mountains, where they will spend three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac E. Shoemaker of Grafton street, who spent most of the summer at Atlantic City, N. J., have returned to their home.

Mrs. F. Gonzales of Chicago, Ill., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Harry Chesley.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Doyle are back from a motor trip to Eaglesmere, Pa.

Mr. John Bartlett of Columbus, Ohio, was the week-end guest of his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Beale of Delaware street, en route to his home from Atlantic City, N. J., where he has been for the past month.

Mrs. R. S. Steward was hostess the past week at her home at an informal bridge party.

Mrs. John L. Weaver and sons motored back to their home the past week from Eaglesmere, Pa., where they have been spending several weeks.

Miss Bertha L. Pinter and Mr. George J. Pinter are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Burkhardt at their home on Connecticut avenue.

Mrs. Irene Polk has returned to her home after a visit with her sister, Mrs. George Grinwood.

Miss Katherine Burke, who has been the house guest of Miss Gladys Mid-

Van Winkle had guarded her secret so well that not even her closest friends realized that the engagement was to be announced.

Miss Van Winkle's two little nieces, Misses Rachel Margaret and Mary Evelyn Van Winkle, stood at the side of the bride-to-be. They carried dainty baskets containing the betrothal cards, and as the guests were greeted by the receiving party they were presented with one of the dainty cards bearing the announcement.

Dr. Smith is the son of Rev. Joseph Smith of Philadelphia and is a graduate of the Hahnemann Medical School of San Francisco.

Mrs. Laura Willoughby Greene, whose

novel entertainments have long been the admiration of her fellow clubwomen, says the Chicago Herald, announces that preparations are in progress for a zodiac party to be given next month for the benefit of New Hampshire colony and Illinois village of the Illinois Colony Club.

It is an selecting women according to the month of their birthday anniversaries, and am consulting the almanac for the signs of the zodiac. It will be one of the most interesting and instructive affairs of the club year, if effort and personal attention to detail avail anything," said Mrs. Greene. "Our object in raising money is to help old ladies who are in need, give them little outings and occasional pleasures. We have no sinking fund and no solicitors, so every dollar paid into the treasury does its full quota of work and gives 100 per cent to the cause we espouse."

Admiral and Mrs. A. V. Zane have taken the Pierce house on Oxford street, which they have leased for the winter.

Maj. and Mrs. M. L. Brett left yesterday for the Virginia mountains, where they will spend three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac E. Shoemaker of Grafton street, who spent most of the summer at Atlantic City, N. J., have returned to their home.

Mrs. F. Gonzales of Chicago, Ill., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Harry Chesley.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Doyle are back from a motor trip to Eaglesmere, Pa.

Mr. John Bartlett of Columbus, Ohio, was the week-end guest of his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Beale of Delaware street, en route to his home from Atlantic City, N. J., where he has been for the past month.

Mrs. R. S. Steward was hostess the past week at her home at an informal bridge party.

Mrs. John L. Weaver and sons motored back to their home the past week from Eaglesmere, Pa., where they have been spending several weeks.

Miss Bertha L. Pinter and Mr. George J. Pinter are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Burkhardt at their home on Connecticut avenue.

Mrs. Irene Polk has returned to her home after a visit with her sister, Mrs. George Grinwood.

Miss Katherine Burke, who has been the house guest of Miss Gladys Mid-

Van Winkle had guarded her secret so well that not even her closest friends realized that the engagement was to be announced.

Miss Van Winkle's two little nieces, Misses Rachel Margaret and Mary Evelyn Van Winkle, stood at the side of the bride-to-be. They carried dainty baskets containing the betrothal cards, and as the guests were greeted by the receiving party they were presented with one of the dainty cards bearing the announcement.

Dr. Smith is the son of Rev. Joseph Smith of Philadelphia and is a graduate of the Hahnemann Medical School of San Francisco.

Mrs. Laura Willoughby Greene, whose

novel entertainments have long been the admiration of her fellow clubwomen, says the Chicago Herald, announces that preparations are in progress for a zodiac party to be given next month for the benefit of New Hampshire colony and Illinois village of the Illinois Colony Club.

It is an selecting women according to the month of their birthday anniversaries, and am consulting the almanac for the signs of the zodiac. It will be one of the most interesting and instructive affairs of the club year, if effort and personal attention to detail avail anything," said Mrs. Greene. "Our object in raising money is to help old ladies who are in need, give them little outings and occasional pleasures. We have no sinking fund and no solicitors, so every dollar paid into the treasury does its full quota of work and gives 100 per cent to the cause we espouse."

Admiral and Mrs. A. V. Zane have taken the Pierce house on Oxford street, which they have leased for the winter.

Maj. and Mrs. M. L. Brett left yesterday for the Virginia mountains, where they will spend three weeks.

MISS DOROTHY M. HENDERSON. Whose engagement to Ensign Simon Carl Stengel, U. S. N., has been announced.

daugh on the eastern shore of Maryland, has returned to her home.

Miss Bertha S. Davis and Miss Lillian Mae Davis, who have been spending a few weeks at Atlantic City, N. J., have returned to their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Maddin Summers and son, who have been occupying the Henkle house for the summer, will sail from New York September 16 for Moscow, Russia, where the former has been appointed United States consul.

Mrs. Thomas K. Conrad has returned to her home after spending two weeks with her parents at Gordonsville, Va.

Mrs. Alfred Leet, accompanied by her daughter, has returned to her home on Raymond street after a visit of a month.

Shoes of Today, 6:00 to 10:00 Style—With—Comfort More Beautiful Than Ever

"Dollar-Silk"—the Hose of Today—a most unusual value in wear and beauty.

Arthur Burt Co., 1343 F

10 Cents to Join Mr. Government Clerk

Join Our Co-operative Club and Save Big Money on a

Waltham Watch

If you wear a Waltham Watch you'll never be late at work.

Chas. Schwartz & Son, Jewelers & Silversmiths, 708 7th St.

M. Brooks & Co. The Women's Store 1109 G Street

Our Authentic Showing of Autumn Dresses Attracts Attention

Hundreds of Attractive Dresses Are now on show. Every one of them show new features and novel kinds that are fascinating. Choice of crepe meteor, crepe de chine, taffetas, georgette crepe and many serge models.

Without a Doubt You Will Pay $35 in a Few Weeks.

Wool Jersey Suits The latest craze and the foremost Fall Fashions, $35 $45 $55

It Is Autumn in Our Waist Department Our entire summer stock has been closed out. The department is prepared to show the season's newest and best styles.

At $3.50 At $5.00

A special price for smart georgette crepe and crepe de chine waists. Extra heavy georgette crepe, crepe de chine and combination waists. Something very attractive.

with her mother, Mrs. Walter, in Grand Rapids, Mich.

Mrs. F. M. M. Beall entertained the members of her bridge club at her home Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Burr N. Edwards and her mother, Mrs. S. Swartz, left Thursday for a ten-day stay at Atlantic City, N. J.

Mrs. George H. Wilson and daughter have returned from Ocean City, Md., where they spent several weeks.

Mrs. Trueman O. Murphy was hostess Friday to the members of her bridge club.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Phelps of Northampton street have gone to Atlantic City, N. J., for a two-week stay.

Mr. and Mrs. George Thomas Dunlop, who have been spending the past two months at Bass Rock, Mass., returned to their country place, the Hays, North Chevy Chase, Thursday.

Mrs. A. Bruce Bielaski left Thursday to spend a week at St. Michaels, Md., with her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Smith left Wednesday for Virginia Beach, where they will spend several weeks.

Mrs. Charles W. Henkle left Wednesday to visit friends in Bound Brook, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Ridgway have returned to their home from Annapolis, Md., where they have been spending the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Corby and children motored home Friday from Eaglesmere, Pa., where they have been spending the summer.

Hair Removed DeMiracle
Requires no mixing. Results immediate. Money back if it fails.

Screwless Keelock
A mounting that eliminates all eye-glass troubles. A screwless, concealed mounting of great holding power, simplicity and beauty.

ADOLPH KAHN, Optician, 935 F St.

Frank R. Jelleff
First of the Fall Season!
$29.50---Dress Event---$29.50

What kind of a dress do you wish? It's here. It is new and it is specially priced at $29.50. Twenty new models to choose from—In charmeuse, satin, taffeta, serge, crepe with satin or Georgette crepe.

SATIN DRESSES, box-plaited, loose-line styles, with anes; coat effects with large collars; new deep yokes; bead and wool embroidery, in Oriental and Indian colorings; full plaited, apron-pointed and tiered drapings.

CREPE DE CHINE DRESSES, line, plaited and redingote coat effects, with wool and bead embroidery.

CHARMEUSE DRESSES, in afternoon styles, with solid and silver thread embroidery; shoulder collars of Georgette crepe; draped and plaited skirts.

TAFFETA DRESSES, coat and blouse styles; large shoulder collars.

SERGE DRESSES for street, dress, business and school wear; new side and box plait; deep yokes; loose-line styles, with wide girdles; Moyn age, basque, redingote and coat effects; all the new styles in gray and Oriental colorings; full sleeves, large cape and shoulder collars; white or beige broadcloth, southe and button trimming.

No. 1—NEW STRAIGHT LINE PLAITED DRESS OF SATIN, in plum, navy, taupe and black; surplus tulle and black; surplus bodice, with large white satin collar, finished with fringe. $29.50 dress event.

No. 2—CREPE DE CHINE DRESS, in new coat effect, new apron tunic, girdle, novel panel plaited skirt, with long pointed tulle, taupe and black; surplus bodice, with large white satin collar, finished with fringe. $29.50 dress event.

No. 3—CHARMEUSE DRESS, in new coat effect, novel panel plaited skirt, with long pointed tulle, taupe and black; surplus bodice, with large white satin collar, finished with fringe. $29.50 dress event.

No. 4—THE BETTY CAMELUS—A SMART PLAITED SERGE DRESS with tan linen collar and cuffs—embroidery of navy blue and purple. $29.50 dress event.

Wooltex Fall Suits
The Latest Expression of the New Styles Early Autumn Showing!
Never were styles more becoming and never were fabrics more beautiful, and in Wooltex Suits you get the highest character of tailoring. And every garment is guaranteed to give you two full seasons' satisfactory wear. The prices are moderate—$25, $30, $35, $40 to $95.

In buying Wooltex there is security both as to correctness of fashion and to durability. Buy your suit early—it's a satisfaction to have it when you want it.

New Wooltex Coats New Separate Skirts New Blouses
Modish New Sweaters Just Arrived!

Our present collection surpasses all previous ones for diversity of colors, styles, weaves and values. Extraordinarily fortunate purchases made in New York this week enable us to offer the following:

New Silk Angora Sweaters, $6.50
The fall craze—Havana Brown, Rose, Delft Blue, Purple, Corn and Tan. Solid color effects and with white collars and cuffs.

Auto Caps and Throws, to match, $2.25.
The Set—Sweater, Hat and Long Throw—$8.75.

All-silk Fiber Sweaters, $6.95
SPECIAL PURCHASE! One small lot in two popular colors—rose and copeland blue—middy styles—formerly sold at $10.00.

$14.50 to $20 New Fall Sweaters
All-silk fiber—heavy weight—beautiful shades and combinations of colors, including purple and gold, navy and white, oxford, copeland, rose and Havana.

Wool Fiber Sweaters, $7.50
Trimmed with white jersey collar and cuffs—colors are Gold, Rose, Delft Blue, Purple and Corn. All-round belt and sailor collar.

Shetland Wool Sweaters, $6.95
Full thirty-inch length—medium weight—plain colors and combinations. Two styles all-round belt or sash—all desirable colors.

Shetland Wool Sweaters, $5.90
With large sailor collars—new gold and purple shades—with long double sash—regularly $7.50—quantity limited.

Woolen Sweaters, $6.95 to $8.50
Fancy Stitched Zephyr Wool Sweaters. In new styles and colors, including solid white and all leading colors.

Pennsylvania Avenue. Saks & Company Seventh Street.

Opening the Fall Season With a Sale of Women's Boots at $2.35

They are truly special values at this price—made possible by the conditions under which they were bought. And in view of the enormous advance in leather—the opportunity becomes still more important.

The styles are those that will be most popular for fall—graceful shapes of distinctive effects. In Patent, Gun-metal, Black and Gray Kid, with cloth or leather tops; plain or tipped toes; Cuban, Low or Louis XIV heels. Included also are some Common Sense lasts, Lace and Button; with extra wide tops.

All sizes—and on sale Monday morning.

SOROSIS
The New Fall Street Boots are More Striking Than Ever.
Ask to see
Style L 184-4,
the new Brown shade lace boot
—BROWN KID BOTTOM,
—BROWN SUEDE TOP,
(Very choice.)
$10 and up.
Sorosis Boot Shop, 1213 F St. N.W.